Practice Note #5 - September 2018

It is fitting that this Practice Note is issued on the cusp of harvest time (in the US anyway). With it, we share the fruits of our labor over the last several months. We have reached some significant milestones and are delighted to share them with you.

- Our first thematic paper, the Sustainable Learning Framework: Advancing the UN Sustainable Development Goals | Scale and Sustainability: Two Sides of the Same Coin has just come out.

With this paper, we explain the Sustainable Learning Framework, which informs all of our work.

- A partnership with Refugee Center Online in which they provide their course - Educating Refugee and Immigrant Students - on learning.careyinstitute.org
- Eight new courses for refugee educators!
- Our first microcredential, Sustainable Learning for Refugee Educators, openly available on DigitalPromise.org (Don't miss a webinar on microcredentials next week!)
- Online, open Meet Ups for anyone wanting to talk about refugee education

Please join us for any or all!

New Courses Open!

We have 8 new courses open this fall. Some are completely open for participants to enroll anytime and work independently through the course. One course is facilitated, and has a set start and end date (see the left column). Please learn more about them all by visiting our catalog at learning.careyinstitute.org.

ASYNCHRONOUS, SELF-PACED, & OPEN ENROLLMENT COURSES

Join any of these free, open courses listed below. Sign up when it is convenient for you. Work at your own pace. Earn certificates of participation as you go. Build your network of inspired and inspiring refugee educator friends and colleagues!

Educating Refugee and Immigrant Students (from the RCO)

This foundational course is designed specifically for U.S. teachers. It will provide you with a wealth of resources to help you meet your students' needs!

6 Micro-Courses

Designed by Julie Kasper & focused on supporting students with Limited or Interrupted Formal Education (SLIFE)

1. Considering Labels (SLIFE)
2. Knowing Our Students
3. Building Bridges to Learning
4. Social-Emotional Learning
5. Academic Achievement
6. Programs for SLIFE

FACILITATED COURSE: ACCELERATED EDUCATION

If you are working in or interested in starting an Accelerated Education Programme (AEP), this course offers essential foundations from the UNHCR guiding document on AEPs.

Designed by Mona Younes, this four week course is a facilitated exploration of AEPs within a community of AEP practice.

STARTS: October 1, 2018*

ENDS: October 29, 2018

* Be sure to sign up by September 30th to join this course.

UPCOMING WEBINAR

Join Odelia Younge from Digital Promise for an exploration of microcredentialing as a tool to recognize educator excellence and validate teaching competencies. In this one hour webinar, you'll learn what microcredentials and digital badges are, the impact they are having on professional learning, and the role they can play in supporting teacher professional development. You'll also have an opportunity to learn more about the Carey Institute for Global Good's Sustainable Learning for Refugee Educators microcredential, now open for your submissions!

Fall Refugee Educator Meet Ups on Zoom

Join Julie Kasper, Refugee Educator Academy Program Manager, and Rosemary Arca, Center for Learning in Practice Consultant and Teacher Coach, for these open gatherings of like-minded folks to discuss anything and everything about refugee education.

Present issues or problems of practice and talk with colleagues to identify possible solutions. Bring questions about course content. Share resources from your local teaching and learning context. These Meet Ups are about you and your practice. They offer a way for us to connect and support each other.

Focus topics will include: social-emotional learning, curriculum and materials design, lesson planning, and assessment. Register for more details.

Four Sessions this Fall. Join One or All.

Monday, October 1st / 11:00 AM EDT • 4:00 PM BST
Saturday, November 3rd / 11:00 AM EDT • 4:00 PM BST
