Guggenheim Gallery Artist Application

The Guggenheim Gallery welcomes a new visual artist to display their work each month. The Guggenheim Gallery is open to the public Monday through Friday from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm, and on holidays and weekends for special events only. The Carey Institute also provides the time and space for displaying artists to hold a weekend afternoon opening reception at the Guggenheim Gallery based on the availability of the Guggenheim Pavilion. As part of our Art Is for Everyone initiative, we welcome the public and artists to our gallery on a Pay What You Wish basis.

Artists are welcome to apply to display their work by submitting this application with three samples of work and a CV to: Carey Institute for Global Good, Guggenheim Gallery Committee, 63 Huyck Road, Rensselaerville, NY 12147. Applications are reviewed twice per year (January and June), and artists will be notified with the committee’s decision no less than six months before their hanging date, and no more than six months from the date of application.

Selected artists will be required to comply with the following terms and conditions, including:
1) Hanging and take-down appointments will be assigned to artists at least one month in advance based on the availability of the Guggenheim Pavilion;
2) Artists must submit a $200 damage deposit to the Carey Institute upon hanging, which will be returned upon take-down pending no damage has been caused;
3) Artists will use the materials provided by the Carey Institute to display their work – no adhesives, nails, pins or command hooks may be used;
4) The Carey Institute is not liable for damage caused to work by the public, nor is it insured for such damage; and
5) Artists are responsible for their own marketing and sales.
